NEWSLETTER OF THE 31ST US INFANTRY REGIMENT ASSOCIATION

ACTING EDITOR: RON CORSON (JRCORSON@AOL.COM)

Reunion 2021 is Really Headed to the QUAD CITIES and This Time We'll Make It !

2020 has finally passed and the COVID-19 vaccine is being administered across the country. As an old Soldier once said prior to a unit attack. "We're at the bottom of the hill there's no place to go but UP!" Well maybe he didn't say that, but none the less 2021 promises to be better than this past year. It looks clear that our Reunion in September 2021 will be a "GO." The Quad Cities located along the Mississippi will be a great place and this September will be a great time to reunite as Soldiers along with our families. Everything is set.

All our members have to do is tear out Page 4, fill it out, and send it in to let everyone know: "This Polar Bear will be there." So, our now long term Commander, Charlie Tapp, and the Board of Directors once again shout out: "You All Come to Reunion 2021 in the Quad Cities on the Mississippi. You Hear?"

The New National Museum of the US Army Museum Opens at Fort Belvoir and has Some Added History of the 31st US Infantry

The short article titled "The 31st Infantry Regiment" that begins at the top of Page 2 is the opening paragraph of the history of the 31st US Infantry Regiment on a plaque posted in the newly opened US Army Museum located at Fort Belvoir, VA. What is interesting is the added history of the Regiment, which is traced back to 1813, more than a century earlier than what the Association has listed as its recognized formation of the 31st US Infantry Regiment, on 13 August 1916 in Manila.

The 31st Infantry Regiment Written by:

Patrick Feng

In more than 100 years of service, the 31st Infantry Regiment has played a role in every major conflict and military operation involving the US Army from World War I to the Global War on Terrorism. Since 1813, three regiments have held the designation 31st Infantry. The first was constituted on 29 January 1813 and consolidated with the Regiment of Light Artillery in 1815. The second 31st Infantry was originally constituted 3 May 1861 as the 3d Battalion, 13th Infantry, and redesignated the 31st Infantry in September 1866. It was then consolidated with the 22nd Infantry on 15 May 1869 and redesignated the 22nd Infantry. The most recent unit designated 31st Infantry is one of a few Regular Army units constituted and organized outside of the United States. Comprised of soldiers from the 8th, 13th, 15th, and 27th Infantry Regiments, the 31st was formed on 13 August 1916 at Fort William McKinley in Manila, the capital of the Philippines.

Another Polar Bear Has Gone

On 20 July 2020, one of our Korean War veterans, a past commander of the Association, and long-time Northeastern Regional Director, Edwin “Ed” H. Bettis passed away. Ed grew up and lived his life in Skaneateles, NY. At the age of 17, in 1946, Ed enlisted in the Army and was trained as a Light Mortar Gunner. He was shipped to Italy and assigned to the 88th Infantry Division (Blue Devils). He served in the 350th and 351st Infantry Regiments carrying out guard duties and transporting of war prisoners. Ed attended the 88th Division’s NCO training and then reassigned to the 349th Infantry joining E Company on the Morgan Line where his squad held part of the line/border between Italy and Yugoslavia. When his enlistment was up, he was given an Honorable Discharge and placed in the Inactive Reserve. When the Korean War broke out in 1950, he was recalled to active duty and after a short refresher course was sent to the 3rd Infantry Division in North Korea (NK) and then on to the 7th Infantry Division. Ed fought in the Battle of the Chosin Reservoir. He survived Chosin and after being evacuated he was reassigned to G Company, 31st US Infantry Regiment. The War continued through the harsh winter of 1950 and 1951. In G Company, Ed was assigned to the mortar platoon and served as a Forward Observer. On 7 June 1951, G Company was given a mission to seize and secure a hill in the vicinity of Hanagok, NK. In mid-afternoon, G Company was hit with a misplaced napalm strike by US Navy planes. Ed was badly burned, evacuated to a MASH hospital, and spent two months in a hospital burn ward in Osaka, Japan. He returned to the States and was separated as a Corporal from the Army at the age of 21. In civilian life, Ed was very successful retiring in 1985, after 27 years, as Manager of Manufacturing for the Meade Paper Company. Ed had many passions including small sport cars, watercraft, scuba diving, and underwater search and recovery. Ed was a member of the “Chosin Few” and a member of both the Otisco Valley Memorial VFW Post 5494 and American Legion Post 239 in Skaneateles. In the mid 1980’s, Ed connected with the 31st US Infantry Regiment Association and brought his buddies from G Company into the 31st Association. Ed was the Northeast Regional Director, and in 1998, he was elected Commander of the Association. After his tour as Commander, he continued his role as the Northeast Regional Director. He maintained steady support and dedication to the POLAR BEARS of 4-31 at Fort Drum and the 31st Infantry Regiment Association. He will be sorely missed. Pro Patria

The 4th Battalion SITREP

A Letter from the Commander

DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
4th BATTALION, 31ST INFANTRY REGIMENT
2nd BRIGADE COMBAT TEAM, 10th MOUNTAIN DIVISION
CAMP DWYER, AFGHANISTAN 09354

To the Members of the 31st Infantry Regiment Association:

It has been a busy and exciting year for the Polar Bears. We welcomed many new soldiers, and executed a live fire progression that certified the 4-31st Infantry for deployment and combat operations.

Living up to our namesake of America's Foreign Legion, the Polar Bears deployed for the 10th time during the Global War on Terror, this time to Afghanistan in support of Operation Freedom's Sentinel. Units were tasked with the tall order of replacing an entire Brigade's worth of combat leaders throughout the theater. The Battalion then entered into a new era of the Polar Bears' storied history. Throughout 2020, the Battalion had to adapt and overcome obstacles related to the COVID-19 pandemic. We proved once again that Polar Bears will remain ready regardless of the operational environment. The Polar Bears have received praise from all levels of command for our seamless transition into this unique mission set.

Not to be outperformed, our Home Station Mission Command team at Fort Drum has developed a robust training program to ensure all Polar Bears are trained, certified and ready to deploy. Overall, the Polar Bears have continued the time-honored tradition of excellence, upheld since the Regiment's inception in 1916.

We look forward to returning home and continuing the Climb to Glory.

Pro Patria!

CHRISTOPHER M. ROWE
LTC, IN Commanding

Note: Camp Dwyer, Helmand Province, the current duty station of the 4-31 Polar Bears, was named after British Lance Bombardier James Dwyer (1984-2006), of the 29th Commando Regiment Royal Artillery. He was killed on 27 December 2006, age 22, when the vehicle he was driving struck an anti-tank mine while on a patrol in southern Helmand Province. Camp Dwyer was originally a forward operating base (FOB), in May 2009 it was expanded into a Camp by Naval Mobile Construction Battalion Five (NMCB 5).

Two Days during the Korean War, Two Medals of Honor

In its 104-year history, seven members of the 31st Infantry Regiment have earned the Medal of Honor—five during the Korean War and two in Vietnam. Two of those Medals were earned on two successive days during Korea's Operation Showdown. Only one of the two Polar Bears lived to receive the Award.

On 14 October 1952 the 31st Infantry Regiment launched Operation Showdown to take Triangle Hill as part of an 8th Army push to seize the entire Iron Triangle. Two days of air strikes to prep the battle area were followed on 14 October by a rolling barrage from the 280 artillery pieces of the US IX Corps. But the Chinese 15th Corps troops were deeply dug in and had a covered tunnel system to feed replacements to the front as US firepower devastated their front-line soldiers. The result was that the Polar Bears suffered their heaviest single day of casualties during the Korean War with 97 KIAs and 337 WIAs.

1LT Edward R. Schowalter, commanding A Company, 1st Battalion, spearheaded the attack that first day against the fierce Chinese resistance. LT Schowalter received two grazing wounds to his hand and ankle before being shot in the helmet by a sniper. The bullet lodged under the skin in his right ear and knocked him unconscious. When he awoke, he refused medical attention and resumed leading his soldiers forward. When he was wounded in the right side by a grenade, he again turned away medical aid and continued to command A Company until the hill was taken. For his actions that day, Schowalter was awarded the Medal of Honor by President Eisenhower (Captain Schowalter is on the left in the picture).

Next day, 15 October, the action was just as intense. PFC Ralph Pomeroy, a machine gunner in E Company, was covering the consolidation of the objective by his company, inflicting heavy casualties on the counterattacking enemy in the process. The Chinese soon brought artillery and mortar fire on Pomeroy's position, but he maintained his stance and continued to inflict heavy casualties on the enemy. Then a mortar round severely wounded him and left his gun mount inoperable. He removed the hot weapon from the wrecked mount and cradling the weapon in his arms continued firing. He was wounded again but went on firing until he ran out of ammunition. Even then he pressed on, closing with the enemy and using the machine gun as a club until he was mortally wounded. Army Secretary Robert Stevens presented the Medal of Honor to Pomeroy's parents on 16 December 1953, for their son's "inspirational actions and supreme sacrifice." Pro Patria.

Yes - Times Were Different

In the 1920's and 30's, life for soldiers and for families in the 31st in Manila was not the same. Newly enlisted soldiers arrived in the Regiment with no military training. The Regiment was totally responsible for turning young civilians into Infantry Soldiers. While life for American families was good, in many ways there were a number of things that were just a bit different, such as keeping the quarters rodent free. As shown in the picture, a Philippines rodent control device (the python) for 31st Infantry family quarters during the 1920's.

Korean War Vet Remains Returned

October 2020 - The remains of an Erie, PA soldier killed during the Korean War have been brought home for burial after 70 years. Army PFC Harold K. Knight was buried at Heckathorn Cemetery in Seneca, PA, His remains were turned over to the United States by North Korea in 2018 and were identified by DNA analysis and circumstantial and material evidence in 2019.

Knight was assigned to Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 31st Infantry Regimental Combat Team, in Korea. He was killed in action on 25 November 1950. His unit of the 31st US Infantry was engaged in several days of intense fighting against the Chinese People's Volunteer Forces at Sinhung-ri, near the Chosin Reservoir in North Korea.

PFC Knight was 20 years old. His body could not be recovered following the battle. Knight's name is recorded on the Courts of the Missing at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific in Honolulu, along with the names of others still missing from the Korean War. A rosette will be placed next to his name to indicate he has been accounted for by the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency. More than 7,600 Americans remain unaccounted for from the Korean War. PFC Knight was the fifth of 12 children. Three of his siblings survive, Frances Thompson, Albert Knight and Patricia McInchak.

A Message from the Commander: Light at The End of The Tunnel

It has been a long trying year for our country but just as all soldiers we are persevering. We now have a vaccine that appears to enable us to get past the pandemic. Never in history has a vaccine been produced in such a short time. It has been a hard time, but we have and will continue to be the greatest nation in the world. May we all as good soldiers work to keep us the greatest nation in the world.

Let's now begin to make plans for a great Reunion. The Quad City Visitor's Bureau is promising to welcome us with the Midwest hospitality that they are known to hand out. They are all excited, as we will be to be there. I cannot say enough about how the Visitor's Bureau has stayed in touch and wanting to welcome you to their historical area. See you in the Quad Cities in September.
