

GEN Townsend to keynote Shanghai Bowl Ceremony

Polar Bear General Stephen J. Townsend has accepted our invitation to be the featured speaker at the Shanghai Bowl Ceremony and dinner. This will take place on the third day of the Myrtle Beach reunion, Tuesday September 18, 2018. His insights after his recent tour of duty as Commander of Operation Inherent Resolve in Iraq and Syria will likely be a highlight of his remarks.

Then Major General Townsend with Paul Kerchum, Bataan Death March survivor, at the 2012 Washington DC reunion

Townsend has been a Polar Bear since he commanded the 4th Battalion, 31st Infantry on its first post-9/11 deployment to Afghanistan in 2001. In that tour of duty, the Polar Bears drew their first enemy blood since Vietnam. General Townsend has continued to attend Regimental reunions when he wasn't deployed.

Townsend hails from Griffin, Georgia, and was commissioned in the Infantry from ROTC at North Georgia College. He has soldiered with four regiments: the 505th Parachute Infantry, the 21st Infantry, the 31st Infantry, and the 75th Ranger Regiment; and with five divisions: the 82d Airborne Division, the 7th Infantry Division (Light), the 10th Mountain Division (Light), the 2d Infantry Division, and the 101st Airborne Division

(Air Assault).

His deployments include Operation Urgent Fury Grenada, Operation Just Cause Panama, and Operation Uphold Democracy Haiti. He has had four tours in Afghanistan, and most recently served as commander of Joint Task Force—Operation Inherent Resolve in Iraq and Syria.

Other major events scheduled during the reunion: the General Membership Meeting; a special presentation about the recently published hundred-year history of the 31st Infantry Regiment; the annual Memorial Service for those who have passed on since our last reunion; and the core activity—getting re-acquainted with each other over something tall, wet and cold, while retelling those favorite Polar Bear war stories.

In the category of fun, the Beach Cove Resort is right on the ocean, and if swimming and sunning are on your list of things to do you'll be in the right place. If golf is your thing, your biggest problem will be picking out the course you'll play from among the 71 in the area. And there's a lot more to do in Myrtle Beach—go to visitmyrtlebeach.com and find out.

See you there—

BREAKING NEWS: 4-31 ALERTED FOR DEPLOYMENT

The Polar Bears have been alerted for movement to a combat zone. LTC Steve Wallace, Battalion Commander, said, "We sign out on summer block leave at the end of July and will be gone from 27 July to 12 August. When we get back, we'll be out-loading containers and prepping to head to Afghanistan. We ought to be over there by the end of October." More details at the reunion, and in the next Newsletter.

Jim Tierney is new Membership Chair

When Chuck McCammon resigned as membership chair after serving many years, Jim Tierney took the job. Jim's Polar Bear service was in Vietnam. He was a Squad Leader and a Platoon Sergeant in the 1st Platoon of A/6-31 from May 1969 until April 1970. During that time he served under three different company commanders: Captains Nic Nicolini, Ron Corson, and George Lavezzi. He has been a firm supporter of the Association since the 2003 Reunion in Pittsburgh.

Jim is already hard at work with Jim Simms and the other regional Association reps to purge the membership rosters and bring them as up to date as possible. Their work is already surfacing in another part of the Newsletter in the TAPS section on p. 6, and will be on display during the Memorial Service at the Myrtle Beach Reunion.

Wounded Warrior Weekend

By Mike Strand, Association Commander

My wife Eloise and I have a vacation home at an all-season resort in the Blue Ridge Mountains SW of Charlottesville, VA: Wintergreen. Wintergreen has a very active program with over 60 trained volunteers who get disabled skiers on the slopes through their Adaptive Sports Program (ASP).

Once each year the program reaches out to regional disabled military...active duty and others from regional medical facilities such as Walter Reed and the Veterans Administration. Hence the Wounded Warrior Weekend. Wintergreen and the ASP cover ski fees and meals for all participants. Resort home owners house participants on the mountain.

This year Eloise and I participated by housing four troops in our mountain home for the weekend. They were all referred from the VA Hospital in Durham, NC. We have participated in nearly all of the fourteen years the activity has taken place at Wintergreen. It works out well for us: Eloise is a retired Army Occupational Therapist and I am an arm amputee (Vietnam). It is very satisfying for us to meet these troops, and occasionally their family members, each year. As retired military it is very satisfying for us to reach across generations and get to know these soldiers who have been impacted by more recent wars.

Nearly all our troops are amputees...typically legs. We are particularly impressed with their maturity and optimistic outlook on life despite, for many, continued affliction from PTSD.

This year the program hosted 30 troops and additional medical support personnel. It takes about 90 volunteers to make the event happen, by using equipment such as mono-skis, bi-skis, and outriggers to help them down the mountain. Of our four troops this year, one was a double leg (above the knee) amputee. The program got him into a ski sled and guided him on the slopes. Although we have encountered no "Polar Bears" in the program, we have met some troops from the same unit I served in at Fort Bragg in my first year on active duty years ago.

"You kind of think you can't do things. But you can't think you can't do things if you've never done them, especially if you have a disability," said John Weber, one of this year's veterans. Less than 10% of the US population have ever skied. For these troops to do so is a major life accomplishment.

The Wounded Warrior program at Wintergreen is one of many throughout ski areas in the U.S.A. Some of our troops travel from ski area to ski area taking advantage of the activities. During my skiing days a favorite resort was Winter Park outside Denver where they have accommodations for disabled skiers.

An Excerpt from Chapter 29

Iraq: August 2006 – November 2007

Next day LTC Michael Infanti, commander of 4-31, moved his command group from the water treatment facility onto Route Malibu. Within minutes an IED blew his vehicle apart. His interpreter was killed, and he and all other passengers were wounded.

Parts of the battalion commander's vehicle littered the ground. A couple of the nearly 400-lb. doors had been blown off the truck. Half of the vehicle was completely gone. Infanti himself lay on the road in shock, tended to by his combat medic. But before the medic could work on him, Infanti had to be gotten out of his Humvee. His own door was jammed, and the vehicle was leaking fuel on him. "My left arm was useless, the roof was caved in which prevented me from going under the top of the seat [to another exit] and my door was caved in a little which prevented us from getting it open." His troops pulled the door off the Humvee, using a device called the rat claw, which they wrapped around the door and attached to another vehicle. They were able to pull the door off in a couple of minutes so the medic could start working on Infanti. EOD personnel checking the site later concluded that Polar Bear 6's vehicle had been hit by a combination of two Italian anti-tank mines and two 30-lb. shaped charges. In a week LTC Infanti returned to duty. Only later was it found that his back had been broken.

TAPS

Jim Simms, and Jim Tierney after he took over the membership chair, have been putting in long hours for several weeks along with other regional membership coordinators to bring the Association roster up to date and make it current. This inevitably has resulted in the discovery of a number of members who have passed on. All members who make their transition are noted in the newsletter without exception—we owe that to these Polar Bears. In the current situation, this means that the backlog of deceased members will require more than one issue for their publication. This issue addresses our WWII brothers and continues into the beginning of the Korean list. Unavoidably, some elements of information could not be found, and that is so noted.
